STARTING DATE: August 2016

The Department of Management in the College of Business Administration at Kansas State University (http://www.cba.ksu.edu/) is seeking to hire a visiting assistant professor for a two-year term appointment. Responsibilities will include teaching a combination of MIS and OM/SCM courses, conducting and publishing academic research, and assisting in the service mission of the Department/College.

QUALIFICATIONS: Required: (1) Ph.D. degree in OM/SCM or MIS from an AASCB accredited Business School (or be within 6-months of degree completion at start of contract); (2) demonstrated potential for high quality teaching in relevant areas; and (3) demonstrated potential for conducting high quality research and publishing in high quality OM/SCM or MIS journals; (4) ability to work with diverse populations and a commitment to fostering a climate that demonstrates appreciation for diversity.

Preferred: Preference will be given to candidates with (1) demonstrated/documented university teaching excellence in the areas of MIS or OM/SCM (including project management, supply chain management, information systems fundamentals (visual studio), ERP, systems analysis, database, and others); (2) published research in high quality journals; (3) skills in research methods and data analytics; (4) related professional work experience in OM/SCM or MIS; (6) experience in computer lab settings; and (7) strong interpersonal communication skills.

THE UNIVERSITY AND COLLEGE OF BUSINESS ADMINISTRATION: Kansas State University is a state-supported institution of more than 24,700 students. The University is recognized for the quality of its academic programs and for consistently producing winners of top national scholarships. K-State is a member of the Big XII Athletic Conference. The university is classified as a research university with high research (RU/H) by the Carnegie Classification of Institutions of Higher Education. Graduate degrees offered include 65 master's degree programs and 45 doctoral degrees. The 668-acre main campus is located in Manhattan, Kansas (population approximately 52,000), a community nestled in the beautiful Flint Hills of Northeast Kansas. The College of Business Administration is one of the eight Colleges on the main campus and will be moving into a brand new, state-of-the-art building in 2016. The College, with 2,800+ undergraduate and graduate students and 67 full-time faculty, comprises four academic departments: Accounting, Finance, Management, and Marketing. In addition to six undergraduate majors (Accounting, Entrepreneurship, Finance, Management, Management Information Systems, and Marketing), the Master of Business Administration degree program offers a specialization in technology entrepreneurship designed to train future leaders of technology-based ventures. The College is accredited by AACSB International at the bachelor and master levels in business administration and accounting. The Management Department is the largest department in the college and grants about 300 degrees each year.
